Editorial Board

Editors

- > John Nerbonne (Groningen and Freiburg)
- Dirk Geeraerts (Leuven)

Editorial Board

- > Peter Auer (Freiburg)
- > Sjef Barbiers (Meertens, Amsterdam)
- > Joan Beal (Sheffield)
- \(\rightarrow\) Karen Corrigan (Newcastle)
- Marie-HÃľlÃÍne CotÃľ (Laval, QuÃľbec)
- Jacques Durand (Toulouse)
- > Sheila Embleton (York, Ontario)
- > Jacob Eisenstein (Georgia Tech)
- Elvira Glaser (ZÃijrich)
- Charlotte Gooskens (Groningen)
- > Jack Grieve (Birmingham)
- > Fumio Inoue (Chiba)
- Barbara Johnstone (Carnegie-Mellon, Pittsburgh)
- Paul Kerswill (York)
- \(\rightarrow\) Alexandra Lenz (Vienna)
- \(\rightarrow\) Mark Louden (Wisconsin)
- Simonetta Montemagni (Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche, Pisa)
- > Pieter Muysken (Nijmegen)
- > Yves Scherrer (Geneva)
- > Benedikt Szmrecsanyi (Leuven)
- > Dirk Speelman (Leuven)
- Clive Upton (Leeds)
- > Susanne Wagner (Oxford)

Support us!

- > submit your manuscript
- > become a community proofreader
- angle become a community typesetter
- become a public supporter

Language Science Press Studies in Laboratory Phonology

This series will publish book-length studies on language variation including studies in dialectology; sociolinguistics, the diffusion of linguistic variants, contact varieties, including (semi-)independent colonial varieties such as "World Englishes"; and naturally studies incorporating both social and geographical influences on variation. We are interested in variation at every linguistic level from phonetics to discourse, and we are particularly eager to attract studies which are based on large and rigorously analyzed datasets. Studies aiming to tap new media as data sources are emphatically welcome. We likewise look forward to studies which emphasize on the one hand the links to other cultural studies such as archaeology, sociology, population genetics and human geography, or on the other hand perspectives from other

Language Science Press Studies in Laboratory Phonology

This series will publish book-length studies on language variation including studies in dialectology; sociolinguistics, the diffusion of linguistic variants, contact varieties, including (semi-)independent colonial varieties such as "World Englishes"; and naturally studies incorporating both social and geographical influences on variation. We are interested in variation at every linguistic level from phonetics to discourse, and we are particularly eager to attract studies which are based on large and rigorously analyzed datasets. Studies aiming to tap new media as data sources are emphatically welcome. We likewise look forward to studies which emphasize on the one hand the links to other cultural studies such as archaeology, sociology, population genetics and human geography, or on the other hand perspectives from other

Editorial Board

Editors

- Dirk Geeraerts (Leuven)

Editorial Board

- > Peter Auer (Freiburg)
- Sjef Barbiers (Meertens, Amsterdam)
- > Joan Beal (Sheffield)
- > Karen Corrigan (Newcastle)
- Marie-HÃľlÃÍne CotÃľ (Laval, QuÃľbec)
- Jacques Durand (Toulouse)
- > Sheila Embleton (York, Ontario)
- \ \ Jacob Eisenstein (Georgia Tech)
- > Elvira Glaser (ZÃijrich)
- > Charlotte Gooskens (Groningen)
- > Jack Grieve (Birmingham)
- > Fumio Inoue (Chiba)
- Barbara Johnstone (Carnegie-Mellon, Pittsburgh)
- > Paul Kerswill (York)
- Alexandra Lenz (Vienna)
- > Mark Louden (Wisconsin)
- Simonetta Montemagni (Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche, Pisa)
- Pieter Muysken (Nijmegen)
- > Yves Scherrer (Geneva)
- > Benedikt Szmrecsanyi (Leuven)
- > Dirk Speelman (Leuven)
- > Susanne Wagner (Oxford)

Support us!

- > submit your manuscript
- \rangle become a community proofreader
- become a community typesetter
- become a public supporter

Editorial Board

Editors

- John Nerbonne (Groningen and Freiburg)
- > Dirk Geeraerts (Leuven)

Editorial Board

- > Peter Auer (Freiburg)
- > Sjef Barbiers (Meertens, Amsterdam)
- > Joan Beal (Sheffield)
- > Karen Corrigan (Newcastle)
- Marie-HÃľlÃÍne CotÃľ (Laval, QuÃľbec)
- Jacques Durand (Toulouse)
- > Sheila Embleton (York, Ontario)
- > Jacob Eisenstein (Georgia Tech)
- > Elvira Glaser (ZÃijrich)
- > Charlotte Gooskens (Groningen)
- > Jack Grieve (Birmingham)
- > Fumio Inoue (Chiba)
- Barbara Johnstone (Carnegie-Mellon, Pittsburgh)
- Paul Kerswill (York)
- \(\rightarrow\) Alexandra Lenz (Vienna)
- \(\rightarrow\) Mark Louden (Wisconsin)
- Simonetta Montemagni (Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche, Pisa)
- > Pieter Muysken (Nijmegen)
- Yves Scherrer (Geneva)
- > Benedikt Szmrecsanyi (Leuven)
- > Dirk Speelman (Leuven)
- > Susanne Wagner (Oxford)

Support us!

- > submit your manuscript
- > become a community proofreader
- become a community typesetter
- become a public supporter